an international conference

Gender Aspects of Middle Eastern Conflicts

The conference will take place on December 8, 2017 at the Czech Academy of Sciences, Národní 3, Praha 1, Room 205.

The conference will focus on the impacts wars in the Middle East have had on the lives of women living in the region as well as on those women who became refugees in the West. Besides the general analysis of war effects in terms of violence committed against women, the conference will also address new roles that women, as a consequence of war, have had to accept and which had, until then, been the domain of men. The findings which will be presented at the conference should undermine the standard way the Middle Eastern women are looked upon as passive beings subordinate to men and uproot the prejudice that women in war conflicts are only victims of violence.
